

Steven Merrill

KITCHEN DESIGNER

Steve's three decades of experience in designing unique and functional spaces across Maine and New Hampshire make him the ideal partner for your remodeling project or new construction. His creativity and expertise ensure that he can tailor a design to suit your specific needs and budget.

In the face of the overwhelming choices presented by the construction process and the multitude of available products, Steve excels at simplifying options. With his guidance, you can confidently select materials that promise both longevity and functionality, ensuring your project stands the test of time.

"As a designer, there's nothing more fulfilling than when your ideas truly connect with a client, surpass their expectations, and result in a new space that will bring them joy for many years to come."
